

Plastics Plus was started in 1991, as a family business by Barry White (Chairman) and his son Stuart White (Managing Director). They have run a successful business for nearly 20 years, enjoying year on year increases in turnover and growing to a team of 36 employees, with a collective knowledge of over 275 years in the plastics industry. The philosophy of the business has always been about great products and first class, friendly service, and after 20 years we feel that we can say we deliver that and will continue to do so.

“More than just plastic” means that we aim to provide more than just a straight forward range of plastic sheet, we provide solutions to our client’s applications and for that we need the equipment to do so. That’s why we continue to invest in high quality, state of the art machines.

Plastics Plus has just purchased their 8th machine from Homag UK. “We have been so pleased with the quality of the product and the service we receive that we would certainly recommend Holzma machines. We consider them to be the best for the job and since that’s what we strive for it makes sense” says Managing Director, Stuart White.

The new machine, a 530P model, will replace an existing machine which had given excellent, long service, with minimal service and maintenance. It is intended that this new machine will last 10 years plus, providing uninterrupted service without loss of performance. This will be achieved with the technical support of Holzma for on-going modifications and development, together with the Plastics Plus production expertise.

Plastics Plus and Homag UK have worked together for over 15 years and the understanding of each other’s business that has developed over this time means that Plastics Plus have enjoyed excellent service which is unrivalled in the Plastics Industry. The first machine was a standard model, but through close working partnership and understanding Holzma have developed machines from their standard wood working range to meet the requirements of the plastics industry and the Plastics Plus business in particular.

Future investments in new machines from Holzma are planned to keep Plastics Plus ahead of the field in cutting technology.

Plastics Plus offers a friendly, efficient service, together with a quality range of products developed by the leading manufacturers from across Europe.

Plastics Plus supplies to a wide range of markets, which include point of sale, sign and display, glazing and outdoor advertising. With products designed for use in many street furniture applications, Plastics Plus has become the first choice supplier for this market.

Plastics Plus has a proven track record for the supply of products into the retail and design markets. Our products offer a wide range of design options together with product performance.

Plastics Plus is committed to providing our customers with the very best customer service. Our experienced team aim to provide practical solutions specifically tailored to the exacting need of the client and their application.

Says Stuart White, "A key factor in our excellent service record is our state of the art CNC cutting equipment, from Homag UK. This ensures reliable and repeatable accuracy and an edge finish to our plastic sheet that is second to none. We can cut panels to whatever our client's requirements for size and thickness, and can process sheets up to 6 metres in length on our oversize CNC saw, specifically built for Plastics Plus to cut our range of oversize sheets."

"The Homag saws we have are ideal for working with the vast range of sheet products we process. This includes acrylic, polycarbonate, pvc and petg, in a large range of thicknesses and sizes. Most recently we have seen a trend towards thinner gauge material, which requires specialized cutting facilities, and this is an area that Plastics Plus has developed with Holzma and the unique saw blade technology we use. We particularly value the extraction systems which eliminate swarf at the point of cut to give a swarf-free finish, thereby reducing our client's processing times by supplying them with product ready for use."

The two Plastics Plus locations in Wolverhampton and Nottingham work together with their range of six specifically built, high performance saws to provide a swift cutting and processing service to meet our client's exacting deadlines.

Together with the use of cutting optimization software, at Plastics Plus, they can also ensure that clients gain the best value from the sheet sizes used to cut the required panels from.

The Plastics Plus team is highly trained to use equipment to provide the highest level of cut to service. The quick and comprehensive programming capabilities make it quick for them to switch from one material to the next.

Plastics Plus operates a shift-based system, which means they can act swiftly to all enquiries. Plastics Plus proudly boast that over 90% of all deliveries are made on a next day basis.

The latest choice of the new Holzma 530 P Model was based on the increased capacities, efficiencies and improved level of performance. Says Stuart White, Managing Director “The Plastics Plus investment in this model shows our commitment to providing a cutting service which is second to none, and ahead of the market – just what our customers deserve!
